

Boronia Reserve upgrade

We're building a new outdoor fitness station and integrated half court at Boronia Reserve

What's happening?

We're introducing a new outdoor fitness station and integrated half court at Boronia Reserve in Doncaster East.

The proposed fitness station will include a selection of static and dynamic outdoor fitness equipment for a full body workout, including:

- leg press
- lat pull down device
- static bench
- multi-user workout station with integrated monkey bars
- concrete base with synthetic turf surfacing for improved comfort and durability
- bench seat and additional rock edging for informal seating.

The proposed integrated half court will include:

- an integrated basketball and netball pad with line markings
- retaining rocks, to double as informal seating
- bench seat
- new concrete path, linking the north side of the halfcourt to the pedestrian network
- small garden bed area.

Where is it?

The outdoor fitness station will be located on the eastern side of the reserve, along the Koonung Creek shared path. The integrated half court will be located on the western side of the reserve, along the pedestrian path. See map on reverse for details.

Why is it needed?

The new fitness hub and integrated half court are designed to encourage healthy activity within our reserves. The upgrade is part of our Parks Improvement Program and will be delivered through the 2025/26 Open Space Capital Works Program.

When is it happening?

Construction is scheduled to begin in late May 2025 and will take around six weeks to complete.

How it might affect you

Certain areas of Boronia Reserve will be closed during construction, with minor detours in place for the affected section of the Koonung Creek Trail and pedestrian paths. We'll do our best to minimise any disruptions.
